POLI'S

There is an appeal to the Poli performance as shown last night and running for the rest of the week which seldom comes from professional entertainment. Possibly this is due to the subtle feeling inspired by the Five Antwerp girls—real products of war, who stand out prominently in the musical field of art. Even without billing of the playhouse one knows that on the stage before him there is a talent which is not inspired by the money to be earned but rather by inherent genius. The act composed of five girls includes a grand piano, two violins, a cello and a harp with one vocalist. Their work is far above the average with setting superb and a concert effect.

As a special photo-play attraction George Walsh and Anna Luther are shown in a five part screen production entitled "The Beast." The story deals with the redemption of a bad man by a woman and the selection of locations being superb the whole touches that chord in the emotions which makes it successful.

Two more girls are added upon the Poli stage in costume changes, song and dance. They are the Misses Young and Brown. They are pretty, real sisters in appearance and their eccentricity of solo and duet dancing made a distinct hit.

For refinement of action, plus gorgeous scenic effect, Foster, Mann and company, excels anything of the kind recently seen here. Victor Foster is announced as the nephew of the writer of "Down On the Suwanee River." There is artistic dancing and singing throughout.

Anderson and Millisse, a pair of clever funsters, who dance and juggle with words and hats, are fast workers and produce that novelty of motion and thought which inspires to great applause.

Hill and Bertina, in "The Girl and the Clown," offer an acrobatic and contortion act that has the unique distinction here of having a clever man and a pretty girl wove into one harmonious athletic horesque.

PLAZA.

"The Halfbreed" is the title of the latest "Douglas Fairbanks" Triangle accomplishment and it is certainly worthy of both his name and efforts for it is one of the most remarkable romantic dramas that has ever been screened. The plot is so interestingly complicated that one is held at the height of enthusiasm until the final scenes for it is a wonderful example of photographic development and adds much to the thrilling nature of the story.

Dedic Velde and company in their European novelty entitled "Charley Chaplin's Experiences in the Park," have the headline position on the vaudeville program and it proved one of the most pleasing vaudeville attractions the Plaza has had in several weeks. One of the members of the troupe impersonates the famous movie comedian and his work is indeed clever. Some marvelous contortion work by one of the young women and a series of feats by carefully trained canine actors, were appreciated.

Jack O'Brien, the middleweight champion of the world, told some interesting as well as some humorous tales in his pleasing monologue offering that is entertaining in the extreme.

Ted and Corinne Breton in their comedy singing and musical skit entitled "Fairies and Macks and Fox" in a class singing and dancing diversion completed the vaudeville.

"The Surf Girl" is the Keystone comedy for the latter half and an unusually funny one it is.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Baltimore, Aug. 4.—A curious mixup followed the arrival here of two steamers bearing the same name, hailing from the same port and whose masters' names differed only in that one ended with the letter "e."

Last Saturday the Westerdijk from Rotterdam, Capt. de Jong, arrived here consigned to the Furness Withy Co. When an agent of the Terminal Shipping Co. called on the captain and mentioned the name of his concern the master said he was mistaken. The agent was insistent and left in a huff. Yesterday the steamer Westerdijk, from Rotterdam, Capt. de Jonge, arrived and the agent was satisfied. It was his boat.

When the newcomer appeared at the custom house the surprised clerk wanted to know why he made a second application for entrance. The puzzled skipper denied this. Then both sets of papers were compared and the mystery was solved.

The first captain was S. J. de Jong and the second R. de Jonge.

Naval Academy "Math" Professor Is Pickpockets' Victim

In a letter received yesterday by Lieutenant E. O. Cronan of the detective department from Professor Angelo Hall of the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., is disclosed the fact that he was the loser of $173 on a train from this city to New York last Saturday. He had been visiting friends in Fairfield and was on his way to Annapolis when relieved of the money.

Work on Newtown's Clubhouse Near End

Work on the Newtown Country club's new home and grounds is rapidly nearing completion. The clubhouse tea room, lounging quarters, buffet and locker rooms have been completed and six holes on the links have been opened with work still progressing on the additional holes and tennis courts.

It is planned to hold a tennis and golf tournament between the members during the next two weeks.

An official membership of 85 was reported at the last meeting of the board of governors, when it was decided to limit charter membership to 100 and remit the initiation fees.

The Newtown country club, with considerable private backing enlisted, expects to have one of the finest golf courses and other conveniences of country clubs in this section.

The New Haven Railroad announced that its freight embargo, put in force July 26, would continue until further notice.

There's Only One Way To Go On That Vacation and that's in a P&Q Cool Cloth Suit.

It's one thing to get there but quite another to be "there" when you arrive.

Look over the P&Q selection now and you won't be overlooked when you arrive at your destination; for while there may be ten different ways to get there, there's only ONE way to go—in a P&Q "Oh! So Different" Suit.

Come in—put on any Summer Suit at the P&Q Shop—note how light and airy it is—look at it's interior, bare as Mother Hubbard's Cupboard of extra weight and as light as a pound of feathers.

They are about the lightest, softest, coolest thing a man can wear without getting "pinched."

And the quality's so darn good, the prices won't make you hot under the collar either.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

(By Lee Page)

A man with his hat over one eye came up while me and pop was taking a walk yesterday, saying, Excuse me, but you look like a good fellow.

In that case, Ill excuse you this time, but never let it happen again, sed pop. And we kept on wawking, and the man came after us, saying, Im not going to ask you for anything, dont think that for a minit, all I want is a small temporary loan, Ive never begged in my life and I dont intend to start now, because if I do say it myself, Im to proud to beg, I lost all my money won the Lucyntia went down, and all I want is a small temporary loan, in fact thats all I wood accept.

How small a loan can you get along with? sed pop.

Well thats largely up to you, sed the man.

It may be up to me, but not very largely, sed pop.

Until the Titanic went down I was practically a wealthy man, sed the man.

I see, and wen the Lucyntia sank it was the last straw, sed pop.

I was refering to the Lucyntian. I always get those 2 boats confused, they etch have about the same number of letters in them, sed the man, but about this loan, I assure you its merely a temporary thing.

Tow about a small temporary loan of a dime, sed pop.

Well, of course the axill-size of it dont make much diffrents, because your sure to get it back, sed the man.

Thats wat Im thinking of, I woodnt want to put you to the inconvenients of giving to much back, sed pop.

O, thats all rite, dont let that bother you, sed the man.

I dont intend to, sed pop. And he gave the man a dime and the man put it in his pocket, saying, Now remember, you'll get this back, every sent of it.

You can send stamps if you like, sed pop. And we kept on wawking, and I sed, Hay, pop, you never even told him waw you live or anything, how can he give it back agen?

O deer, I never thawt of that, sed pop, come on in heer and Ill get you a soda, I want to drown my mortification. And we went in a drug store and etch had a soda, me having choekit and pop having lemmen.

PLEASURE BEACH.

Two Bridgeport boys, Robert Gore and John Finnerty, both of them well known in the world of minstrelsy, stepped into popularity at Pleasure Beach Thursday, where they are featured in the open-air vaudeville program. They present a very pleasing arrangement of dances that show them to be finished artists. Their friends gave them a warm welcome last evening.

Jermom and Walker, a pair of talented missees, offered an unusual program of eccentric songs and dances. Both are real comedienness and won instant favor.

Baby Phyllis Gay, a mite of a girl, sang and danced her way into the hearts of the audience, with some charming song numbers. She is a talented little performer with a wealth of artistry.

George Root, sheriff, and a posse of deputies of Rochester, N. Y., have captured Fred Olsowsky, a farm hand who set fire to 4 barns, one house and 4 straw stacks near Moscow, Livingston county.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sensitive Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case, writing special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for free advice.
